This year we face a Federal election in May and Provincial Election in the fall. Join us to learn more about poverty free strategies and what all players can do. Discuss how we can work together in Kitchener-Waterloo and area.

Marvyn Novick is returning to K-W for the next phase of a province wide campaign to present more detailed strategies on how we can eradicate poverty in Ontario. Solutions are in changing the systemic conditions that are putting more people at risk of spiralling into poverty: treating people with dignity and respect, good jobs and working conditions, adequate material assistance and reliable community supports.

The Poverty Free Ontario campaign began in 2007 and provides a framework and strategies based on multiple community consultations across Ontario and input from a range of expert partners from housing, legal aid, economics and social development.
